

12 Little Letters · Free starter

Your First Little Letter

A few gentle prompts to help you begin. Write as much or as little as you like.

Month: _____

Date: _____

Dear _____,

Right now, you are...

---

---

---

This month, you made me smile when...

---

---

---

One thing I never want to forget is...

---

---

---

Something I hope you always know is...

---

---

---

With love, _____

---

12 Little Letters · How to

How to write (and keep) your little letters

Simple ideas, not rules. There is no wrong way to write to your child.

---

1 Pick a day

For example, the date your baby was born, every month. A small ritual makes it easier to remember.

2 Keep it short

Ten minutes is enough. Answer one prompt or all of them, or skip them and write freely.

3 Write like you talk

Use your everyday words. Your child will want to hear your voice, not perfect sentences.

4 Add a little extra (optional)

A photo, a ticket, a note about the song you sang that month.

5 Keep it safe

Store letters flat in an envelope or folder, away from direct sunlight and damp. Acid-free paper and envelopes help them last longer.

6 Decide when to share them

A first birthday, a graduation, a quiet evening years from now. It is up to you.

Would you like the full year?

We are exploring a set of 12 letters, one for each month. Learn more at babypino.com/12-little-letters